

MARKETS | THE TRADER

The Stock Market Just Suffered Its Worst Week Since 2020. Here's What Comes Next.

By Ben Levisohn

Follow

Updated Jan. 21, 2022 7:42 pm ET / Original Jan. 21, 2022 7:38 pm ET

The decline has been painful for investors who have been trained to buy on the dips.

Michael Nagle/Bloomberg

2020.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average declined 1646.44 points, or 4.6%, this past week. That looked stellar next to the S&P 500, which fell 5.7%, and the Nasdaq Composite, which dropped 7.6% and is now down 14% from its all-time high, hit back in November. All three suffered their worst weeks since