All's well that ends well?

Market action on Friday ended with the Dow Jones Industrial Average up 307 points or 0.8%, while the S&P 500 rose 1.1% and the tech-heavy Nasdaq Composite index increased by 1.2%. All three indexes were in the green throughout the day.

The gains, although, hide the week's pain. All three indexes fell for the week, with the S&P 500 marking its biggest weekly drawdown since earlier this year. The Dow had its worst losing week in about a year, whereas the Nasdaq suffered its worst weekly loss in nearly a month, according to Dow Jones market data.
