

Finance and economics | Industries of the future

Will services make the world rich?

Jun 24th 2024 | DELHI, ISTANBUL AND SINGAPORE

🔖 Save

↩ Share

🎁 Give

But will service exports raise living standards in the manner of manufacturing? As Dani Rodrik of Harvard University notes, industry has historically possessed advantages in three areas: it is more technologically intensive, produces internationally tradable goods and creates lots of jobs. Although services is closing the gap in the first two areas, manufacturing still offers more employment.