The Yield Curve Finally Closed Normal

By Connor Smith

For the first time since July 1, 2022, the yield curve finished the day uninverted.

The yield on the 2-year Treasury note was down to 3.651% today, while the 10-year yield was down to 3.71%. With the 10-year yield finally higher than the 2-year yield, it snaps the longest inversion on record at 545 trading days, according to Dow Jones Market Data.
