

Economics

US Manufacturing Contracts at Fastest Pace in Nine Months

By Nazmul Ahasan

August 1, 2025 at 9:00 AM CDT

Updated on August 1, 2025 at 9:29 AM CDT

...

US factory activity contracted in July at the fastest pace in nine months, dragged down by a faster decline in employment as orders continued to shrink.

The Institute for Supply Management's manufacturing index decreased 1 point last month to 48, according to data released Friday. The gauge has been below 50, which indicates contraction, for five straight months.