

3 days ago

Core Inflation Rises to 3.1%

By Megan Leonhardt

Lower food and gasoline prices may have helped keep inflation in check for the headline consumer price index, but without those factors, price growth did jump last month.

Core CPI—which excludes the more volatile energy and food prices and is considered a better gauge of inflation's future path—was up 3.1% year over year in July.